

Thank you for your gift of Gender Champion Training

Gender injustice prevents flourishing for everyone, but it most dramatically hinders the lives of the 186 million women around the world who live in poverty.

The consequences of gender injustice range from the distressing (such as preferential treatment for boys, family decision-making for men only, and women who are disproportionately burdened with chores like cleaning, cooking, and water-fetching) to the tragic (including low rates of education for girls, high rates of domestic violence, early marriage, early pregnancy, and trafficking).

But we know that God designed us for abundance when He created us, so World Renew’s mission involves helping women, men, and families who live in poverty to develop healthier ways of communicating and relating. In the countries of Uganda and Kenya, World Renew is working through churches to encourage families to be intentional in gender equality.

Your gift of gender champion training equips World Renew’s Christian partners to advocate for healthy family relationships in the communities they serve. These trainings promote the biblical values expressed in Galatians 3:28:

“There is no longer Jew or Greek, there is no longer slave or free, there is no longer male and female; for all of you are one in Christ Jesus.” As men and women learn what it means to be faithful to the Godly attribute of *serv*ing one another, they begin to experience the tremendous abundance God intends for them in their relationships.

Francesca and James were among the first families to embrace Christianity in their village, and as they began to understand God’s blessings for them, James began to treat his wife differently. Now James invites Francesca into family decision-making and helps her with chores like collecting water and splitting firewood. He has given Francesca her own land to grow crops, and she decides how to spend the income she earns from it. James and Francesca’s marriage is flourishing, and they are an example of a healthy, God-centered relationship for their neighbors.

Your gift brings abundant blessing not only to relationships but also to families, where girls and boys will see a new way of talking to and treating each other being modeled for them and will, in turn, practice it for generations to come.

THANK YOU

“... I HAVE COME THAT THEY MAY HAVE LIFE, AND HAVE IT TO THE FULL.”
