

Mazereeuws in Zambia

November 2015

Dear Friends and Family,

Hello from Zambia, where we have been busy helping families and communities recover from drought.

As part of World Renew's food assistance project, the beneficiaries are encouraged to participate in "food for work activities" that benefits their communities. They carry out these tasks eagerly, in thankfulness for the food they have received.

We have been impressed with the numerous activities that they have completed and have included some pictures showing their accomplishments.

1. In Adonsi, beneficiaries mixed mud and applied it to the walls, to finish a home for two teachers.

2. In Mabumbu, beneficiaries used traditional techniques to construct a building that can be used for storage of food when it rains and for community meetings.

3. In Lutaba, beneficiaries will repair the roof on this building used for the school feeding program.

4. In Mwandu, men and women worked together to clean the church property.

5. Also in Mwandu, people carried water from the river to moisten clay on the roads so that they could pack it down and repair it.

6. In Loanja, beneficiaries built a new storage building.

We are thankful for the opportunity we had to complete this project and have enjoyed the expressions of pleasure as the beneficiaries have received their food.

We have enjoyed some rain showers and continue to pray for rain so the harvest will provide food security for the people of Mwandu district.

We look forward to seeing our family again on December 3rd. and want to thank everyone for the emails and words of encouragement we received.

Christian greetings,

Rients & Margaret

The building that you see started in photo 2 is now complete (behind the group).
