Thank you for giving the gift of TCT Training

Beliefs are powerful. Worldview matters. When we live in fatalism, superstition, or fear, our lives reflect the brokenness of this world. When we think our faith pertains only to our spirit, not our whole being — or just to our church, not our whole community — we sabotage the abundance God has given us. But, when we use the Bible as our resource for living, depending on God and pursuing His Kingdom and His ways, our lives start to reflect His abundance.

In Uganda, Tanzania, and Kenya, where Christian churches abound, the opportunity for church-driven change is great. Your gift of Truth-Centered Transformation (TCT) training offers churches who partner with World Renew in east Africa a holistic discipleship program that glorifies God, strengthens and grows churches, and—with dependence on God’s intervention—helps communities mobilize their own resources to meet their needs.

Truth-Centered Transformation is a simple training method that encourages churches to apply biblical principles to their challenges. As believers walk in obedience to God, they actively demonstrate God’s love and abundance to others. They start to embody the simple and powerful truth that God is the author of every good thing and that He is good all the time.

In Uganda, a pastor who was taking TCT training started to wonder how God had gifted him. Was there a way that he could use his gifts for God’s glory? After much prayer, the pastor thought of some abandoned land his father had given him. With enough money to buy only two papayas, he planted the papaya seeds on the land, consecrating them to God’s will. He now has 100 papaya trees with which he supports his family, and he has shared part of the land with his village so that they can build a fishpond. His beliefs influenced his actions, and his neighbors know that he credits God with his success. Both his beliefs and actions are having a powerful impact on the community around him.

TCT is a holistic training method that helps Christians in rural churches in Africa and Asia see how their faith shapes all areas of their life and how the Bible speaks to each of those areas. Combined with skills training (the “how” to the Bible’s “why”), TCT offers churches a vision not only for life after death but also here and now.

“... I HAVE COME THAT THEY MAY HAVE LIFE, AND HAVE IT TO THE FULL.”

—John 10:10
