Thank you for giving the gift of a baby or toddler scale

Poor nutrition in the first five years of life kills 3 million children globally every year and leaves 165 million without the body, brain, and immune system development they need to live with good health, to do fruitful work, to live an abundant life.

World Renew believes every child deserves health and so has a child and maternal health program in most every country we serve. These community-based health education programs address nutrition and growing food, hygiene, sanitation, prenatal and antenatal care, and train local volunteers to support their neighbors to put all of this information to use in creating a more abundant life for their children.

Guatemala has the third highest rate of malnutrition in children in the world — around half the country's children suffer irreparable physical and cognitive damage. Marta Alicia Choc-Cal is a young mother and volunteer leader in the community of Concepción de Actelá. With training from World Renew, Marta Alicia visits families to monitor young children's growth and screen for malnutrition so that it can be quickly addressed. A baby or toddler scale is essential to this process.

Your gift of a baby or toddler scale is a necessary tool and support to Marta and the women of Guatemala who want an abundant life for their children just like we do.

THANK YOU

LIFE, AND HAVE IT TO THE FULL.”
