

ROHINGYA REFUGEE CRISIS

Since August 2017, over six hundred thousand Rohingya have fled Myanmar. They have been killed, tortured, assaulted, and humiliated, solely because of who they are. They now reside in a corner of southeastern Bangladesh near Cox's Bazar in makeshift tents and structures, perched on hillsides. They have little hope of returning home, and their situation in the refugee settlement is precarious—especially the situation of women and children.

Rohingya women face several difficulties in preparing and cooking their households' daily meals. They cannot go far outside of their makeshift homes to collect firewood and cook meals due to their cultural and religious beliefs. They are also deprived of social interaction because of a lack of safe spaces for them to be together.

World Renew's Response

Through this Stand With Refugees project, World Renew hopes to raise $50,000 (donations will be matched 1:1 by One Day's Wages for a total of $100,000) to provide 10 equipped community kitchens for Rohingya refugees in the Jamtoli refugee camp in Bangladesh. These kitchens will provide:

- oil and spices for cooking of daily meals
- nutrition as well as hygiene and sanitation sessions
- a safe space for women to be together and to support each other

To complement the community kitchens, World Renew also plans to provide individual stoves to 225 households, and will offer health, nutrition, water, sanitation and hygiene sensitization sessions to 500 households.

What You Can Do

You can help women and children in crisis have a safe place to cook and to gather as they struggle to survive and have hope for a future.

A gift as small as $5 becomes $10 through this project with every gift making a difference for women and children in crisis. You can help World Renew distribute 10 community kitchens by:

- Giving a gift (of any size!) via One Day's Wages website (onedayswages.com/worldrenew) or office (mail your check to: One Day's Wages, PO Box 18071, Seattle, WA 98118) by July 3, 2018. Giving via One Day's Wages ensures that your donation will receive the 1:1 match.
- Becoming a fundraiser for World Renew's Rohingya refugee response. Go to onedayswages.com/worldrenew and click "Fundraise" to set up a simple online fundraising page. Set a goal—$150 or $500 (or more!), and text, email, and share your campaign with your family, friends, and colleagues, aiming to meet your goal by July 3, 2018. (Note: If you reach your goal, One Day's Wages will send you a free shirt!)

This campaign closes on July 3—set up your fundraising page or make a donation today!
