The Mejeur family in Michigan includes 10 grandchildren who each chose $30 in items from the gift catalogue. “The kids had a blast searching the catalogue for their favourite items,” the grandparents said. “It was a teachable moment that helped them understand poverty and how their actions can help others. Plus, their Grandpa’s employer matched our gift dollar-for-dollar—so it was doubled! It’s worth checking whether your employer has a matching gift program, too.”

Animal Raising

Goats & Quackers

What do you call a crate full of ducks? A box of quackers!

Goats and Quackers is a bundle of 5 noisy ducks and 2 fuzzy goats that provide income, meat, eggs, and milk for the families and communities that raise them.

Duck

A Khaki Campbell duck has to get up at the “quack” of dawn to lay 300 eggs a year! Families that raise ducks in Bangladesh, Cambodia, or India can eat more protein, use duck droppings as fertilizer to grow nutritious vegetables, and begin to save some of the money they earn in a community bank.

Friendship Pack

The Friendship Pack is 1 goat and 3 chickens that help families around the world earn income so they can grow enough food, meet their basic needs like buying shoes and medicine, or pay for school tuition. These BFFs are Best Friends Forever and even better together!

Chicken

Raising chickens is egg-sighting! With a small investment, families in Bangladesh, Cambodia, and India can raise chickens for eggs, meat, manure, and to earn enough income to meet their basic needs for food, clothing, and school fees.

Cow
To a farmer in Bangladesh, Cambodia, or India, a cow is like a savings account: as the cow grows, so does their value. In fact, the English word “cattle” is very old and it means “income” or “property.” Help a farmer moo-ve into raising cattle and save money with your purchase of a cow!

400462 $190

Pig
They look big and slow, but pigs can run a 7-minute mile without pulling a “ham” string! When you give a family in India a pig, they can eat more food, use the manure to grow more produce, and earn more income by selling the piglets. Help someone “bring home the bacon” by giving them a pig.

400452 $180

Goat
Goat mamas, or does, don’t find their kids by sight — each goat baby has a different odor and bleat that only their mom recognizes. By raising a goat, a family in Kenya can have meat, milk, manure, and more income to help them survive. Includes vaccinations, deworming, and training in goat raising. No kidding!

400353 $62

Herd
It’s a whole herd of animals — one pig, one cow, and one goat! This gift helps a farmer and his or her family raise food to eat and earn income year ‘round. Includes vaccinations for each animal, farmer training in animal raising, and instructions for growing forage so farmers get good profit from their work.

400570 $452

“We wanted a project to help our children focus on others, and our congregation really had fun helping them raise money for a Friendship Pack in the World Renew Gift Catalogue. We have about 30 kids, several from the local neighborhood, come to children’s church on Sundays. To contribute to the Christmas project, they earned money by doing chores at home or volunteering at church. The kids wound up making a Friendship Tree in the church hall by adding a green handprint every time a child donated. We successfully raised funds to purchase three Friendship Packs from World Renew. We’re excited to do this project again next year!”
